Story Writing Workshop Learning Objectives

As a class participant, I want to…

1. Understand what a Story is and the ways it can be written, so that I can create useful Product Backlog Items.

2. Understand what Acceptance Criteria are and how to better create them, so that I can provide better detail within my Product Backlog Items.

3. Learn how to slice stories vertically, so that they can be potentially releasable.

4. Learn how to split stories, so that they are small enough to be completed in one iteration.

5. Understand how to create and use Story Maps, so that we can better understand, plan, and prioritize the work to be done.

6. Learn how to estimate user stories using relative sizing, so that we can better forecast our work.
